4 Compétences visées / Objectifs généraux d'apprentissage *
From selling to becoming someone worth buying from. This course will provide a solid sales foundation with processes, techniques, methodologies and different tools used in sales. Additionally, students will gain a good understanding of what it takes to hire, motivate, manage, compensate and grow a sales team. Participants will acquire and practice sales techniques and skills which will leave them capable of taking on a sales role and leading a sales team towards performance. As useful as they are, these skills alone are insufficient without integrating the human factor into sales. Human relations are the foundational layer on which any business relationship is built upon, including sales. With the intention of leaving students with a higher self-awareness and being "someone worth buying from", the course will provide an opportunity for students to discover the source of their ways of being and acting, providing them with access to being a person of integrity and interacting authentically in business settings. The course will use an ontological (the study of being) approach combined with the latest findings in neuroscience to lead students on a self-discovery path with the objective of finding an access to ways of being and creating relationships beyond what seems currently available. Finally, the course will explore four foundational factors of for creating trusting relationships as a pathway to develop a new kind of listening and interacting with others, opening the door to becoming an extraordinary seller.
